

THE ADVOCATE.

HARRIS &amp; MASON, Proprietors.

T. STERLING, TUESDAY, SEPT. 8, 1891.

FOR PRESIDENT.

GROVER CLEVELAND,
Of New York.

FOR VICE - PRESIDENT.

JOHN G. CARLISLE,
Of Kentucky.

Hon. John Young Brown's cabinet is as follows: Capt. A. J. Gross, Adjutant General; Capt. John W. Headly, Secty. of State; Hon. A. S. Norman, Assistant Secty. of State; Archibald Dixon Brown, (son of the Governor) Private Secty.

The Louisville banks seem to be peculiarly unfortunate in exciting distrust in the minds of their depositors. The banks are probably perfectly sound, but the depositors of several more or less uneasy. Wednesday witnessed a run on the German National and the German Security banks in the city, and every few days some baseless rumor will make a number of the small depositors call for their money.

Dun's weekly review of trade contains little that is not indicative of improvement in all branches of commerce. In the South, particularly, the outlook is full of encouragement. Injury to the cotton crop promises advanced prices, and a rapid movement has already begun. The wheat crop is the greatest ever grown in the United States. The corn crop has been saved and is very large in the surplus producing States. The monetary situation is decidedly clearer and more favorable than for some time past. Reports from many cities show increased confidence and some gains in the general volume of trade.—Courier-Journal, September 5th.

It comes from so close a personal friend of Gen. Brown's as to be undoubted correct that he was not consulted in the matter of Maj. Matt Adams' appointment to a Railroad Commissionership, and that he knew absolutely nothing of it until it was announced in the newspapers. There is no doubt about this being correct, and it puts an end to the rumor that Maj. Adams will be reappointed at the expiration of his six months, or eight months' term. For the same authority says that while Gov. Brown feels the warmest friendship for Maj. Adams, having served in Congress with him for four years, he does not intend to reappoint him.—Courier-Journal.

The exact figures of the cotton crop of 1890 have at last been given to the public. It is the largest ever grown, the American product amounting to 8,652,297 bales, against 7,311,322 bales the year previous, which was regarded as a very prolific yield. There has been propagated in South Carolina a cotton plant that yields seed alone, and it is said to be a more profitable crop than lint and seed combined at the present prices of lint. It requires much less labor to harvest; the yield of seed is a third greater, and there is a far higher per cent. of oil in the seed. Should this new industry realize the hopes of its promoters, it will be many a dollar in the pockets of Southern planters. Less lint will be produced, but it will command a higher price, while cotton seed is as staple in the market as stylish four-foot mule colts.—Louisville Times.

The Con. Con. reassembled at 12 o'clock Wednesday. President Clay called the meeting to order and in the course of his remarks took occasion to express his regret that the new Constitution left the appointment of the Railroad Commissioners in the hands of the Governor instead of making the office an elective one. His idea being that it would expose the office of chief execution to the interference of the railroads and that he feared it would leave the nomination of a candidate for Governor by the dominant party more or less in the hands of these corporations. Because of an expression of honest fear on his part, that this provision may be so taken advantage of by the railroads as to prove a virtual nullification of the many wholesome restraints placed upon the growing power of these corporations by the new Constitution, he has been jumped upon by his enemies and charged with covertly accusing Gov. Brown with being a railroad sympathizer. The Convention will probably soon complete its work and go home.

HORSE AND TRACK.

Monbars, 2:20, is now the champion two-year-old stallion.

Manager, by Nutwood, has reduced the three-year-old pacing record to 2:11½.

The man who uses "common sense" in the horse business will generally succeed.

Nancy Lee, the dam of Nancy Hanks, has been bred this year to Stamboul, 2:11.

Direct's 2:11½ at Chicago last week, was the fastest heat ever made by a stallion in a race.

Doble offered to match Nelson with Nancy Hanks the other day, but the offer was not accepted.

Happy Russell, 2:21½, sire of Happy Bee (4), 2:17½, and Happy Lady (2), 2:28, is but seven years old.

There is no danger of the Wilkes boom subsiding as long as the representatives of that family continue to win laurels upon the turf.

The prediction is made that fifteen new California horses will enter the 2:20 list this year. This year means up to the first of January next, in California.

The Clark County Fair begins today. The trots will be fine, as the entries are large and the horses are first-class. You will have a pleasant time if you attend.

The cleverest trainer and most skillful driver is a very small man when he has not the material to send to the front. A cheap horse makes the best look very insignificant.

Allerton now holds the stallion record. He has trotted in 2:10 flat. Williams seems to be after Maud S., and the indications are that he will beat 2:08½ with his great horse.

We are pleased to learn from a New York source that Mr. Bonner has received word from Marvin that Sunol is all right again and going sound, and that she will be prepared to go against the record of Maud S.

The little pacing wonder Direct has placed the fast mark of 2:06 after his name. He is now the fastest horse in the world, as Johnston, 2:06½, held the place until now. Direct also has a trotting record of 2:18.

While the drivers are claiming distinction as having driven to extremely fast records certain numbers of trotters or pacers, let us give the faithful rubbers some credit. John Clark, with the Salisbury stable, is the only man that has made the toilet of two such phenomenal pacers as Cricket, 2:10, and Direct, 2:09½.

Palo Alto is training a number of aristocrats this season, one of the latest candidates for honors being the two-year-old colt Arion. He took a record of 2:25½ at San Jose, Cal., recently. He is by Electioneer, out of Manett, a sister to Woodnut, 2:16½, whose dam was Addie, a mare that also threw Manon, 2:21.

If any man has a four-year-old that he thinks can pace fast, it will be well for him to keep out of the way of Thomas and the Idol Wilkes' colt J. H. L. On his showing at Chicago, when he chased Direct in 2:11½ and carried him back to the wire in 2:13, he will come very near doing for a free-for-all in the big ring next season.

With the exception of the three heats by Nancy Hanks, the three heats made by Charleston Friday in 2:15½, 2:15½ and 2:15, are the three fastest heats of the season. Nancy Hanks is by Happy Medium, and Charleston by Bourbon Wilkes. Bean Bros. sell a colt in their October sale by Bourbon Wilkes, out of Misteria, by Happy Medium.

The following is said to be infallible: After a horse is nine years old a wrinkle comes on the eyelid, at the upper corner of the lower lid, and every year thereafter he has one well-defined wrinkle for each year of his age over nine. If, for instance, a horse has three wrinkles, he is twelve, if four, thirteen. Add the number of wrinkles to nine and you will always get it at.

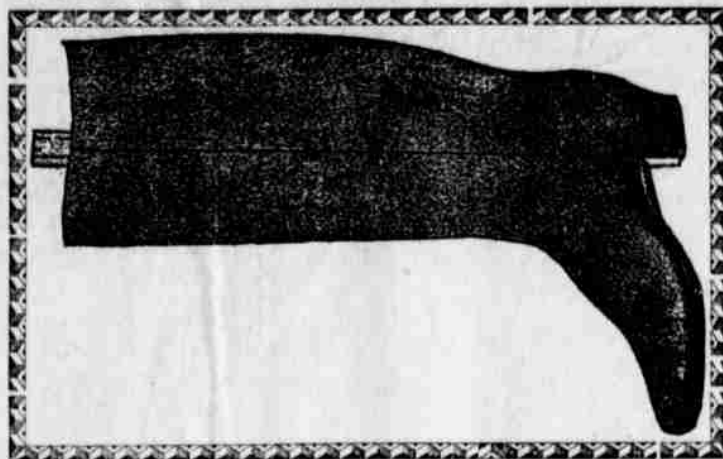

The Vigo County Board has valued Axtell at $500, and a committee from the Farmers' Alliance will visit Indianapolis to ask the state board of tax commissioners to raise this figure. Many members of the alliance want the horse taxed at $105,000, the amount paid for him, claiming that the farm land is assessed at its full value, while others will be content with $75,000. The alliance leaders aver that they can prove that the stallion is earning an enormous dividend yearly, and that last year alone the profits were nearly $50,000. It is said that Mr. Ijams, one of the owners of the horse, has made a threat to move Axtell away from Vigo county in case a high assessment is made, and this fact, the alliance alleges, deterred the local board from making the proper assessment.
